Bully Pulpit Retreat Center is located across the street from the Bully Pulpit Golf Course clubhouse. Nestled in a shallow dip between two buttes, the retreat center provides a place for both large and small groups to gather and enjoy the beautiful views the Badlands have to offer. Playing off the medicine wheel of the Lakota, the building follows a radial design pattern which maintains a sense of security within the butte.

Clubhouse

LEGACY BULLY PULPIT

CLUBHOUSE

DESIGNERS: HUNTER CHAPUT & CHASE MOSSER

Located in the heart of the Crescent Butte Ranch, this clubhouse is the main hub for all visitors to the area. Here, guests check in for their cabins, eat their meals at the main level restaurant, and enjoy drinks on the upper level bar patio. This lodge-style design is a hot spot for social interaction and education.
LEGACY BULLY PULPIT
STABLES
DESIGNER: EMILY KREIL

One of the first buildings seen when approaching Crescent Butte Ranch is the riding stables. Like the cowboys of old, visitors can come to the stables to learn how to ride and care for horses. Using rustic, weathered wood, the L-shaped building pays tribute to the former Eaton Ranch that used to be located on this exact site. This tribute to the history of the area is a major component of the brand new Crescent Butte Ranch.

LEGACY BULLY PULPIT
EVENT BARN
DESIGNER: EMILY KREIL

Using the existing structure on the site of Crescent Butte Ranch, the historic barn has been refurbished into a bright and rustic event space. This is a great place for wedding receptions, square dances, and all kinds of other fun gatherings. Located right along the main entrance of the Crescent Butte Ranch, this building provides a happy welcoming to all who visit.
CRESCENT BUTTE CABINS

DESIGNERS: HUNTER CHAPUT & CHASE MOSER

Spread out amongst the landscape of the Crescent Butte Ranch is an array of cabins varying in design. These cabins are surrounded by the dynamic topography of the Badlands and offer beautiful views from backside porches. Visitors are welcome to share in this experience through various outdoor community spaces and activities.